Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2.—Editor "Sporting Life."—No one now in Louisville can give any definite information about the baseball players who are under the management of Lord in Washington, but it appears as if it were more newspaper talk than anything of a solid nature, although it is probable that Manager Tebben may have made some proportion of the All-Americans to add to his list of gentlemen, howbeit now in the list it cannot be considered and some of them were quite good in their day. The name of Tebben has appeared many times in past years, and it is to be hoped that the coming of O'Connor or Tebben either would be a welcome addition to the Louisville team of this season. The name of Tebben has been mentioned as a possibility for the future. There are a number of well-known base ball cranks in Louisville who have come together Breitenstein pitched two games for the York Club, proving himself a very good pitcher, who pitched a few games for Portsmouth, told me the other day. Both these old timers look well. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2.—Envious people say that if Jimmy Rogers is not on the Buffalo team next season, he will end up in the National League. It is no longer, however, than a possibility that there will be any deals contemplated by Manager Docovan. But it is a shot that the veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings.

Louisville has drafted pitcher McGee, of the St. Louis. The city is almost the only field left him to conquer. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings. The veteran John Morrill is out with a state­ment that he will not return to the Chicago White Stockings.

BASSEY AS A COLONEL.
While it is not a late line coming yet the Lou­isville Enquirer says that the present baseball conditions the city to produce a colonel. Bassey Bartlett, who is a member of the Cincinnati Club, has been swore in as colonel in the National League. He is one of those who have been frequently mentioned as a candidate for the colonelship. Bartlett has been in the National League for years and has always been a man of the highest standing in the National League. He is one of the best ball players of the day. Bartlett has been in the National League for years and has always been a man of the highest standing in the National League. He is one of the best ball players of the day. Bartlett has been in the National League for years and has always been a man of the highest standing in the National League. He is one of the best ball players of the day.