TO OUR READERS.

Ever since the close of the last baseball season "Sporting Life" has printed freely a great series of group pictures, capturing the essence of major league teams and the champions of various minor leagues. 'To date there have been published the following group pictures:

- Jan. 22 - The National American League.
- Feb. 19 - The Baltimore American team.
- Feb. 25 - The Chicago American team.
- Mar. 4 - The Cincinnati American team.
- Mar. 26 - The Cleveland American team.
- Apr. 2 - The Pittsburg American team.
- Apr. 19 - The St. Louis National team.
- Apr. 25 - The Brooklyn National team.
- May 2 - The Boston National team.
- May 19 - The Washington American team.
- May 28 - The Philadelphia National team.
- June 18 - The Boston Buffalo are.
- June 25 - The Springfield L. L. team.

For the current issue is given a group picture of the Macon team, champions of the South Atlantic League. In the next issue, May 23, the Fort Wayne team, champions of the Central League, will be reproduced.

Don’t miss any of these group pictures. Copies of the papers of the above dates may not be in print and can not at any time upon remission to this office five cents for each copy desired. Besides, we can deliver copies of each group above mentioned prepared for framing purposes, except the minor league champions, which will not be printed until April 15. These books will be shipped unopened, and printed in heavy enameled paper, size 13 x 14 inches.

Those will be sent care securely wrapped in tubes, at ten cents the copy, prepaid.

REACH’S 1905 GUIDE

In the Twenty-third Yearly Official Hand Book of the American League the Beach Company and Editor Riperswells Themselves.

reach’s American League Official Guide 1905, published by the American League, is a first-rate book, Mr. Birkett, of “Sporting Life,” is still knocking it, the hardcover of the base ball in 1905 in all respects a first-rate offering on the national game and a mark for the publishers, the Beach Company. This is the twenty-third issue of the Beach Guide, as the official hand book of the American League. The book has been long awaited with interest, and is, without doubt, a marked success, a credit to the Beach Company and a guide to all baseball guides, and an all-around first-rate book.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE FIELD.

This book gives a comprehensive review of the American League’s fourth eventful season and contains the American League’s Official Guide for 1905. The book includes all the American League publications for the season, and is also given a review of the remarkable batting career of the ward grange Irishman, as well as the portraits of President Johnson, Strouss, Johnson, Taylor, Collins and Griffiths, of players Lauder, Norton, and a host of other players, as well as a history of the American League from 1871. It may be partly read in the large if it is not worth more than the modest price of $1.50.

THE FIELD AT LARGE.

The National League team of 1904 is also included in the book, and is an interesting feature, as well as a review of the American League of 1876, and the National Association of 1858-1869. The book contains a large number of photographs, and is a credit to the Beach Company.

ED. KENNA’S RIVAL.

Another Pitcher Who Dallies With the Poetic Muse—A Sample of Frank Grube’s Verse.

It is said that Frank Grube, one of the crack pitchers on the New York staff for the past two years, is one of the best in the nation profession. He has been hailed as the “Poet Sandlak” and is said to be a poet of the highest order. His name is in Good Hope, Fayette County, and is widely known for his poetry. He is a little, not very good, but a pretty little and written by "Grube."