UNDER UNGLAUB.

SPECIAL TO "SPORTING LIFE".

Boston, May 7.—George A. Huff has no longer manager of the Boston American Club. On the 7th inst., Mr. Huff tendered his resignation to the members of the club, who promptly decided to accept it.

Mr. Huff has been manager of the club for eight years, and it was under his management that the club was inducted to the American Association.

The club had a very successful season last year, and Mr. Huff has been recommended for his work.

Mr. Huff will now act as manager for the Cincinnati Reds, of the American Association, and will be succeeded by Mr. Boss Hines.
