AMERICAN LEAGUE NOTES.

The Washingtons last week lost four straight games, in which they made only five runs all told. With Ty Cobb resting, it looks as if Lajoie would be the only player to make 200 hits this season. The veteran Ted Sullivan has presented President Comiskey with a fawn for his new ball park. It is reported that Cleveland will turn First Baseman Stovall over to Washington for next season. Cunningham, Washington's new second baseman, throws more like a shortstop than a second baseman. Manager McAleer, of Washington, has furloughed Beckendorf, the catcher, for the remainder of this season. Catcher Stange, of the Tigers, is laid up with a very sore arm, which the player thinks is due to rheumatism. Ray Collins, the young left-hander, who hurls for the Boston Americans, has turned out to be one of the real finds. Of Washington's latest recruits first baseman Somerlot has reported. Pitcher Hennis wants part of the purchase money. The Cleveland Club has four left-handed outfielders in Graney, Easterly, Jackson and Cullam, and only one right-hander in Joe Birmingham. Manager McGuire, of Cleveland, is considering the development of pitcher Koestner into a first baseman. In practice he is a regular Chase at the bat. The Washington Club will not build a new ball park for another year, but will enlarge the present plant. The delay is due to difficulty in securing steel. Choinguard is the name of the latest Chicago White Sox recruit. With Zwilling, Meloin and Zelder, Duffy surely has a bunch of weird names to deal with. Pitcher "Red" Nelson, the Browns' recruit from Akron, must have something in him to stand off Walsh in a pitching duel and shut out the latter's team. The real name of the Browns' Akron recruit, pitcher "Red" Nelson, is said to be Albert Horazdovsky, of Polish descent, as is ricks, alias Quinn, of the Highlanders. Jack Knight is hitting furiously this season. He was a weak hitter in previous campaigns, and now seems to have suddenly discovered the elixir of swatology. Ty Cobb picks the Athletics to beat the Cubs in the post-season series. Cobb figures that Coombs and Bender can outpitch any one of the twirlers Frank Chance has to offer. Knaupp, Cleveland's new shortstop, says he is tired of seeing the name Knapp in the scores. "Knapp," he says, sounds like a sleeper, and he is a wide-awake sort of party. Manager Stallings, of New York, believes that his two young pitchers, Caldwell and Fisher, are going to be stars. The former has a peculiar cross-fire delivery and lots of speed. Tyrus Cobb is reported to be recovering his eyesight very speedily. The lead in batting which Lajoie has obtained is said to have proved an excellent ooulist for the Detroit star. Bill Bradley, once the peer of third basemen, who was recently given his unconditional release by Cleveland, has offered the managerial reins of the Grand Rapids Club, of the Central League. Hugh Jennings says the Cubs will beat the Athletics in the World's Series. This leads the New York "Sun" to remark drily: "Jennings also predicted the Highlanders would finish last this year." John Pollock, umpire in the Wisconsin-Illinois League, was signed last week by President Ban Johnson, of the American League, and reported as one for duty. Pollock's home is at Keewanee, Ill. President Ban Johnson has promulgated the following contracts: C. L. Derrick and B. Lord, with Philadelphia; M. W. Peasley, with Detroit; W. Otey and W. Ainsmith, with Washington; T. S. Stanfield, with Boston. A St. Louis critic rises to remark that "Red Corridor, the Browns' new shortstop, is a dead ringer for Jake Beckley, the Century Plant, in one respect. He collects nearly all the real estate between second and third bases." President Hedges, of the Browns, has purchased an ambidextrous flinger in Frank Romine, of the Northern Indiana League. Romine originally was a southpaw. He lost his speed with the port side and then became a right-hander. Manager Jimmy McAleer has signed, or will sign, a three-year contract with the Washington Club at $10,000 per annum. If Joe Cantillon was worth that sum McAleer is surely entitled, on his 1910 performance, to as much, or more. President Black, of the San Antonio Club, of the Texas League, is reported as having declared that the Detroit Club would not have the San Antonio ground privilege next spring owing to "unfulfilled obligations in the way of turning over players." The following releases have been officially promulgated by President Johnson: By Chicago, Burg to Boston; by Cleveland, Krueger to Portland; M. Rath to Baltimore; O. Burns to Topeka; Thomason to Topeka; by New York, W. Manning to Rochester. Ralph Woldring, the star pitcher of the Holland team, of the West Michigan League, will finish the season with the Chicago White Sox instead of with Indianapolis. Woldring was sold to Indianapolis, but before the deal was completed he was drafted by Comiskey. During the past week a story went the rounds to the effect that the Boston Club was negotiating a trade of pitcher Wood and catcher Carrigan for pitcher Joss and catcher Clarke, of Cleveland. President Taylor, of Boston, absolutely refused to discuss the story. The Chicago White Sox more rosters in Boston than any other visiting team. Pat Dougherty, Fred Parent, Billy Sullivan, Amby McConnell and Harry Lord are ex-Boston players. Billy Sullivan having once held forth with the Hub Nationals, and Jack Collins hails from Newton. The absence of left-handed hitters from the Nap line-up has not added to the chances of Lajoie to cop the big auto. Larry can murder southpaw pitching, but the Naps have had so few off-side batters this season that other managers have not cared to risk their sidewheelers against them. Manager Connie Mack, of the Athletics, laughs at the contention that catcher Ira Thomas isn't the equal of Kling or Archer. "Ira knows the game and plays it," Mack says. "I am perfectly satisfied with my catching department, and would not exchange it for Archer and Kling under any circumstances." An Alexandria, La., dispatch last Thursday was to this effect: "That the Cleveland team, of the American League, will take their spring practice here next year was indicated in an application for hotel reservation made today. They trained here for several weeks just before the opening of the present season." A New York contemporary bewails the fact that "no other club has let as many live ones get away as have the Yankees. Somehow the worst boneheads ever seen on the hill make good as soon as they are turned loose to other clubs." Pitcher Earle Moore, infielder Engle and catcher Kleinhorn are mentioned as cases in point. One of the reasons why there is so little kicking against the umpires in the American League is that the club owners believe in sustaining President Johnson in his policy for clean ball. It is reported to be a fact that not a single American League club owner has filed a protest against the work of any of Johnson's umpires this year. The New York "American" indignantly remarks: "Hugh Jennings says Connie Mack will have to bolster up the Athletics if he hopes to make any showing against the Cubs. Well, Connie can play nothing but substitutes and make as good a showing as Jennings and his Tigers did either against the Cubs or Pirates. And Jennings had three years to make good, at that." Sam Kennedy and Bob Gilks are the two explorers whom Cleveland has had out all year. Kennedy is responsible for Fanwell, Mayberry, De Mott, Rutherford and Bronkie, while Gilks' proteges are Jackson, Adams, Knaupp, Thomason, Sid Smith and Veasey. Thomason and Rutherford have already been passed up, Thomason being sent back to Topeka last week. Harold N. Lanigan, of the St. Louis "Times," quotes Manager Jennings, of Detroit, as saying that "in the event of another baseball war he would be glad to manage an invading club in St. Louis," which he rates as the best paying base ball city in the country, exceeding in possibilities even Boston. If Jennings said all that or is correctly reported, he was indiscreet, to say the least.

POOL GAMBLING.

A Raid Showing Its Hold on Women in Massachusetts.

Fitchburg, Mass., September 11.—Base ball pools sold in this city during the past few weeks by men who represented a syndicate at Taunton and other cities have been stopped by Chief Thayer. The pool-selling became so fascinating here that many women got interested. Complaints were recorded with Chief Thayer and he detailed two special officers to make an investigation. The officers reported that two pools were being maintained, that tickets were sold publicly and that several small pools were being conducted by gatherings of from 25 to 50 men. Notice was served upon the pool sellers and they stopped. One of the men engaged in the pools gave away $150 per week, while another syndicate gave away $500, this being the one which was maintained at Taunton. Hillsboro, O., September 13.—Roscoe Hughes, the Hillsboro ball player shot by a man named Trainer at Mt. Hope, W. Va., August 26, died this afternoon from his wounds. The body will be brought here for burial.
